

The purpose of scientific thought is to predict what will happen in given experimental circumstances. All the philosophical discussion is an evasion of the point.

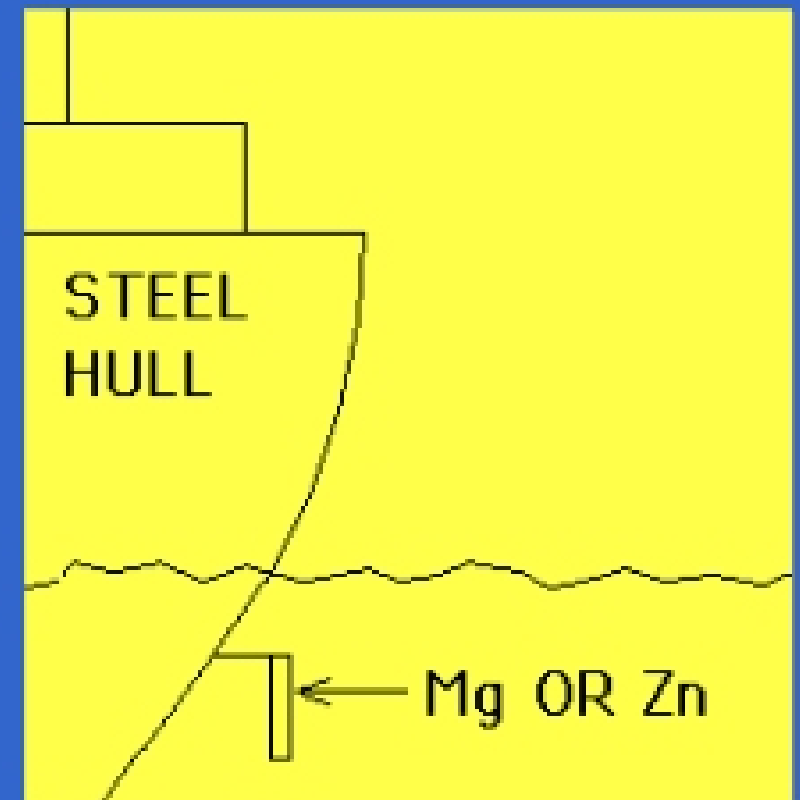

– Feynman

Suppressing corrosion

Cathodic protection

example:

protecting ship plate

Suppressing corrosion

Cathodic protection

example:

protecting hot water
heater tanks

