

University of Phoenix Material

Website Review

Find national, state, and local governmental health agency websites that address the issue you selected in your Week One assignment. Follow the example to document your findings in the table.

Health issue: Teen Pregnancy

Website	Website Information Type	Type of Surveillance: survey, self report, statistics, case report, and so forth	Data changes over time: Has the incidence increased or decreased?	Identify two interventions that affect the issue.
Example: http://www.cdc.gov/media/h1n1flu/index.htm#FAS	Table of contents, search, print, videos, surveillance data current and past, deaths, hospitalizations, and educational resources	Statistics and self-reporting	Swine flu incidences have decreased. There are now isolated cases, compared to the fall of 2009.	Vaccine, hand washing, and isolation masks
Local website: http://www.plannedparenthood.org/health-center/center/Details.asp?f=3273&a=90270&w=details	Table of contents Service offered Educational resources, Videos, Operating time, And location and map, Current and past data	Statistic, and survey	There has been a decline in some groups. United States still have the highest rate of teen pregnancies than other countries	Pregnancy prevention education and contraception and preventing STD's
Local website: http://pregnancyjacksonville.com/	Table of contents	Case & self reporting		Programs, and sex

	Service offered Location and telephone number			education
State website: http://www.dchd.net/maternalchildhealth.htm	Search Table of content Service offered Location and telephone number	Self reporting		Educate teens on pregnancy prevention. Teaching on abstinence and giving information on family planning issues. Identify and develop culturally sensitive and relevant educational materials about family planning
State website: http://www.dcf.state.fl.us/	Site Search DCF Quick Facts Program available Education resources Current and past data	Survey, self reporting and statistics		Encourage teens to Focus on education.
National website: http://www.cdc.gov/nchs/index.htm	Table of content Search Print Surveillance data Education resources	Survey, Statistic and self reporting	Teen pregnancies rate have changed very little since 1980.	Teens educational programs, and being responsible
National website: http://www.hhs.gov/	Site navigation Print Search Education resources Current and past data	Statistic and self reporting	The rate of teen pregnancy is still on the rise.	Abstinence and personal responsibility give training and encourage after school jobs.

