

Natural Language Generation

Eric Clark
CSC 9010-002

Natural Language Generation

An essay on Natural Language Generation

Are you sitting comfortably? I really, really like Natural Language Generation. Indispensable to homosapians today, it is yet to receive proper recognition for laying the foundations of democracy. It is estimated that that Natural Language Generation is thought about eight times every day by socialists, who form the last great hope for our civilization. In the light of this I will break down the issues in order to give each of them the thought that they fully deserve.

NLG – Application Types

- Canned Text
- Template Filling
- Phrase Based Systems
- Feature Based Systems