

Chapter 7

Marketing Organization, Implementation and Control

Organizational Structure

- The basic functions of an organization are to provide:
 - A route and locus of decision making and coordination
 - A system for reporting and communication

Global Organizational Structure

- Product Structure
- Area Structure
- Functional Structure
- Customer Structure
- Mixed Structure
- Matrix Structure