

CIS6930/4930 Mobile Networking

Ahmed Helmy

www.cise.ufl.edu/~helmy

helmy@ufl.edu

Spring 2009

Course Structure

- Three main components:
  - Lecture sessions/class participation
  - Assignments & experiments
  - Major Semester Project
  - (check syllabus for more details)
- Web site: www.cise.ufl.edu/~helmy/cis6930-09
  - also check prev. years from EE579/EE599/EE499
- ‘Student-centered, seminar-like, hands-on, thought-provoking, advanced research’ course in networking, with networking and wireless lab.

Course Components

A. Project:

4 milestones

- (1) Initial proposal
- (2) Refined proposal
- (3) Initial report
- (4) Final report & Demo

B. Presentations

& discussions:

- Topic presentation
- Project presentation
- Paper readings, reviews & discussions

C. Experiments & Assignments (3)

- Wireless & mobility tracing (encounter nets)
- Friendship measurements (socializer games & apps)
- Disaster relief scenarios

Attendance, discussion & 5 Reviews : 15%

Experiments: 3 x 10% = 30%

Projects & Presentations:

- Topic Presentation: 15%
- Project proposal & report: 40% [including presentation & demo]