

Lecture 22: Objectifying Objects

Object-Oriented Programming

Simula

- Considered the first “object-oriented” programming language
- Language designed for simulation by Kristen Nygaard and Ole-Johan Dahl (Norway, 1962)
- Had special syntax for defining classes that packages state and procedures together