

Prediction concerning the response Y

Introduction

- If we want to estimate μ , the mean weight of all American women, aged 18-24, what would be a good estimate?
- If we want to predict y , the weight of a randomly selected American woman, aged 18-24, what would be a good prediction?

Can we do better?

